FROM READERS

To the Editor,
 The Everglades News:
 Have been frequently reminded through your paper of the advisability of furthering the thought of individual production to a great extent than mass production featuring the smaller farm owner as conducive to a more stable community promotion by people and families interested in the progress and building up of their local home towns.
 Why not feature some constructive statements of the possibilities available in that section which will appeal to the retired farmer as well as the city man who has the outdoor complex and who desires freedom to be himself and express himself independently regardless of the so-called ruling powers?
 With a small piece of that wonderful soil he can raise his own vegetables and fruit, he can provide his own poultry and eggs, catch his own fish, have absolutely no fuel to buy and very little expense for clothing and in the midst of the best and most courageous people to be found anywhere, practically the only section in this United States where like conditions prevail and very few people in the north have the least conception of these possibilities. What they learn from our northern papers is that the Everglades are populated by alligators and Seminole Indians, absolutely no white people there. This statement appeared not long since in "The World's Greatest Newspaper." Is it not about time to broadcast the real condition?

F. J. EDDY.

When you use a Hy-Lo you know your beans will arrive on the market in fine shape.

After all, that is what counts, as the buyers here pay the growers according to what he can sell the beans for at the market.

If the Beans are packed in a strong, sturdy, neat appearing hamper, he can pay more, because the market will pay him more.

The Hy-Lo Hamper is an ideal hamper, and will pay big dividends by continual usage.

CANAL POINT

Gordon Vann has returned to Jacksonville after spending a few days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vann.
 Jerome E. Wootman and Wesley House of West Palm Beach had been out to Loxahatchee to look at the citrus groves and they continued their trip to Canal Point and other points in the Lake region, having lunch at Pahokee. Both are attorneys and have a public-spirited interest in the development of the county.

It has been a long time since a boat has locked through at the Canal Point spitway, the lake being so low that no one attempts cross state navigation.

Having read stories in papers all over the United States about the big crop in the upper glades, many tourists are routing their trips so as to come through Canal Point, Pahokee and Belle Glade.

There is a live-liver appearance to Canal Point streets since the sugar cane harvest opened.

Amelia Lewis, whose folks lived on East Beach for many years, came in last night after an absence of four years and a half. She has been in the United States army, stationed at Fort Shafter, Honolulu, Hawaii, Idaho, etc. On her way to Canal Point she stopped at Plant City and visited relatives and was joined by Marie Lewis, who came over with him. The boys expect—or hope—to remain on East Beach.

EUROPE AND EAST BEACH

There are poor people in Greece and France and Italy—it must be there are poor people there, because we have to have high protective tariffs to protect American labor and American capital against the pauper labor of Europe. It is travelers in those countries do not report that the senses of sight and smell are offended by outdoor toilets.

A good many Americans went to Europe recently to attend the national convention of Rotary International, and when they return they report, as Joe S. Driver did to the Pahokee Rotary Club, that nowhere in Europe did they see trash piles or uncollected dwellings and ramshackle places of business. The real estate boards and Chambers of Commerce in Florida compare the climate of Florida with the climate of California and the countries of Europe that border on the Mediterranean sea—Greece, France and Italy, but they overlook the attraction that is chief to the cultured people they try to advertise to—the man-made beauty and the better sanitation.

The American form of government is better than the European—no doubt about that. Then why is it that so many American tourists are unsanitary, dirty, lacking in taste and beauty?

The more wealth in America—at least there is less poverty; we have the best form of government, we are better in general than the foreigners, but when Americans visit tourist resorts in Europe they are distressed to observe the indifference of Florida people to beautification as a means of attracting tourists and making the lives of the residents more pleasant.

There is a movement under way on East Beach to change this, and it is having good support, but the campaign must not be allowed to lag so far a thief, result of the movement has been to make more people conscious of a shortcoming of the community, and this makes it necessary that the beautification campaign be pressed vigorously.

FREE SPEECH IN WISCONSIN

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
 They have heard the other side up at the University of Wisconsin. John H. Chappie, a Wisconsin editor, home town Ashland, came to Madison on invitation of the lately organized Student League for the Defense of American Principles. He talked straight from the shoulder. He described President Glenn Frank of the university as "a soap-box orator with his face washed." He paid similar respects to a number of the professors, who applauded the speaker heartily as he recited their heresies and called their names. Apparently a pleasant time was had by all.

The occasion, we should like to think, reveals the true philosophy of the Madison institution. Here is a school that professes to believe in freedom of speech. Of course, all our colleges do that. But many of them do not practice it. Conspicuous delinquents are the University of Pennsylvania, that banished Scott Nearing; the University of Pittsburgh, that operates a rigorous campus censorship, and more recently, Ohio State. Yet freedom of speech is surely an American principle.

principle that ought to be defended whenever attacked. It should find a sanctuary in every hall, haughty or humble, that is dedicated to learning.

Freedom of speech apparently is a living issue at Wisconsin. Certainly Editor Chappie was privileged to speak his piece, and under happy auspices. To be sure, he did not observe the amenities; but such defaulting is unimportant; compared with the fundamental right involved.

The right to blow off steam is preciously valuable. As long as the other side may be heard in the cloisters of our higher education, we are likely to keep on going.

Over 14,000,000 homes use gas for cooking and heating . . . and all have their choice of electricity, wood, kerosene, or coal!
 And over 1,500,000 gas stoves were sold in the year 1930.
 And the greatest industrial expansion in the South today is the natural gas industry!

WHY?

Because gas is the cheapest convenient fuel . . . produces the quickest heat . . . and because gas appliances cook better food and they last longer than any other cooking equipment!

Suburban Gas

is real natural gas; it is non-poisonous, it is odorless and clean. If someone started out to make an ideal fuel for the Everglades, he could not produce anything better than "Suburban Gas." It is the ideal fuel anywhere that any of those 14,000,000 housewives live—it is the ideal fuel for the South, for southern temperatures; it is the ideal gas for Florida. It is the ideal gas for this quick changing and quick growing country of the Lake region, for it is quickly and easily installed, whether you live on the ridge or "back in the muck"—good for homes, for restaurants, lunch stands and hotels and camps.

FACULTY NEWS

Gethie Smith
 The teachers of this school are unusually jovial this week, on account of getting a full month's pay. They expect to get paid up in full before the Christmas holidays.
 Mrs. Frank Colson went shopping for the football banquet, in West Palm Beach, Saturday.
 We not only have school bells ringing at Christmas times—there will also be wedding bells.
 Miss Ruth Friend was in West Palm Beach Saturday.

SENIOR CLASS

Bath Simonson, Mark Wilder, Gethie Smith and Mary Baker spent the day in West Palm Beach Saturday going their Christmas shopping.

Miss Elliott and "Pop" Walker moved to Kramer Island Sunday, accompanied by Marjorie Cochran and Margaret Mock.
 The pictures of the "foot" football arrived Monday. Everyone was anxious to have a picture of the famous eleven and two dozen were ready sold.

The seniors are not very active physically, this week. The six-weeks exams require too much effort.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Both Dams
 A class meeting was held on Monday. The meeting was called to order by the president, Julian Chandler was appointed business manager of the banquet fund committee and Mary Louise Hoenrich his assistant. Carlos Humphries was appointed chairman of the committee and Dorothy Hooker and Abye Willis assistants.

 Junetta Humphries, the regular news reporter, has been absent for several days.
 Miss Young was absent Tuesday on account of illness.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Hub Spooner
 Mack Parker, Joe Holmes, Mr. Holson, and Harvey Arrington went on a duck hunt Saturday.
 The tenth grade held their weekly class meeting Monday and planned a party to be held December 11, Friday, at St. Louis canal. The committee were appointed by the president, Mack Parker. Those on the refreshment committee were Carl Thompson, chairman, Mark Challancian, Hubert Spooner, Iva Mock, Imogene Sanders, Malloy, Edna Pearl Wheeler, Transportation committee: Ray Wilcox, Mark Challancian, Dale Dams, program committee: Katherine Gray, Margaret Flinders, Dan Paulgett, Budde Cochran, Ruth Holson. The meeting was then adjourned.
 Bertine Williams was absent from school Tuesday.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Grace Adams
 The freshman class, as a whole, has been very busy this week preparing for the six weeks' test which will be given within the next three days.
 Lois Pool was absent from school Wednesday on account of the serious illness of her father.

SPORT NEWS

Joe Holmes
 The football team of Pahokee, after a successful season, has started practicing baseball. There are several teams who want games, including Key West. It is possible that a road trip will be taken. Quite a bit of interest was manifested in baseball last year and this year

AN ULTIMATE CONSUMER

This baby in a drought stricken section of West Virginia was one of the ultimate consumers of the foodstuffs given by the American Red Cross in the past year. More than 2,750,000 persons were fed by the organization.

There is more interest than ever. The team will probably be composed of seniors entirely. They will be coached by Mr. Holson, assisted by Mr. Bishop.

SPORT NEWS

Oretha Thompson
 The first basketball practice by the girls was held Wednesday night. I do not believe there ever was so many excited girls before. They were like a bunch of kids at their first party.

Iva Mock acted like she did this summer playing baseball. This summer Iva was playing first base when the ball was knocked it was almost a home run and Iva got so excited until she started running. She thought she was supposed to run and when she came to, we were fanning her over at third base. Next day she stayed on first base like she was supposed to.

Our first game will be played with Delray. We don't know the schedule of our other games.

BIOGRAPHY

By Mary Baker
 Louis Peter Gold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gold of Palm Beach and Pahokee, was born November 16, 1912, in Philadelphia, Pa. He started school in Perth Amboy, N. J., went for a while to school in New York City, entered high school in West Palm Beach, and this year will graduate from Pahokee high school. This is his third year here.
 He has been active in sports since his entire school life, especially in high school. Last year "Rip" was one of the best players on the P. H. S. football team. This year he is captain of it and holds the same position he held last year, that of quarter back.

Louis is a rather short, well built brunet, neat, with an attractive smile and is well liked. He is vice-president of the senior class. He makes fairly good grades, is studious, to a certain extent, and has plenty of common sense.

"Rip," if you play as good a game of baseball this year as you did last, all's O. K.

BIOGRAPHY

By Mary Baker
 Margaret Cline Hooker was born in Washington, D. C. on September 17, 1914. She is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hooker, now of Chosen.

The family moved to Florida in 1920, after living for several years in Virginia. Two years later they moved to Wilmington, Delaware. Margaret entered the Lemon City high school in Miami when a fourth grade pupil when they moved back to Florida in 1923. She finished her first year in high school there.

After spending her sophomore year in South Bay she entered Pahokee high as a junior last year. She is a member of the senior class here this year.

Margaret was on the basketball and swimming teams in Lemon City high school during her eighth and ninth years in school. But has not been active in sports since. She is a slender, vivacious blonde; a good student; she absorbs rather than learns—is one of the most popular of the senior girls.

Margaret intends to do journalistic work after graduation from college and of the home training she had had, as well as her natural ability she should do it well.

SECOND GRADE

The second grade is working hard and happily on some scrap books which we intend to send to the little orphans in the home at Jacksonville.

Santa Claus is "upon the house top" with his pack ready to jump down the chimney, judging from the posters we have just finished. Mrs. Malard, who is substituting for Mrs. Kendall, has charge of the Christmas program. She is being assisted by Miss Cleo Griffin, who is teaching the folk dancing, and Mrs. Anna Clawson, who mends the pino.

SIXTH GRADE

The sixth grade is making scrap books today for the crippled children's home at St. Petersburg for Christmas.

We were made very happy this week when we received a personally autographed picture of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen. We are having the photograph framed to hang in our room.

We are busily working on our Christmas program to be given Friday, the 18th.

FOURTH GRADE

Christmas is in the air! Our rooms are all taking on a new atmosphere with candles and Santa Claus, candles and bells and other signs of Christmas on our walls and

Tosses Bulls, but Cow Is Too Much for Him

Madrid—At Sanlúcar de Barrameda, Andalusia, some cows on the ranch of Don Herminigildo Diez were being vaccinated, when a bull called Juan, Jose Isidoro Bernaldez, twenty-eight years old, decided to stage an impromptu fight. His first attempt to give a pass to a cow was his last, for he was square in the chest and died a few minutes later.

Bull-fighters in the winter and spring often participate in cow fights at various ranches. Technically, there is no reason why cows could not be used for a formal fight—it is a question of taste and tradition and determination that the toreros shall risk their lives in the ring only against bulls. When they do risk their lives against cows, it is done more or less in private.

the carols ringing out on the air. All we lack is the frost and snow and biting winds to punch our noses and add more Christmas coloring.

Two new pupils have enrolled in the fourth grade this week. They are Dorothy Nottingham, who was formerly in this school and has returned. She has been in West Palm Beach since leaving here. William Vining has come down from the north—Canal Point—to spend the winter with us in (oil and play.

Beatrice Herron was absent last week on account of a tooth operation. She has returned to school this week.

Sues To Foreclose On Cattle Company Land

A suit to foreclose on tax certificates on land in Okeechobee county has been filed by Herbert Pulitzer against the Southern Cattle Company and others. The four certificates cover one entire section and about 50 acres in three other sections, most of which is in the northern part of the county. Herbert Pulitzer is a son of the late Joseph Pulitzer, founder of the New York World. He and Gurnee Munn hunt and fish in this region almost every winter. One of the defendants with the cattle company is J. T. G. Crawford of Jacksonville, the Democratic national committeeman.

FORM ORGANIZATION OF GLADES GROWERS ON TARIFF BENEFIT

man of facts necessary and placed them before the tariff commission for consideration. To them goes much of the credit for the success attained, as these men, serving without pay, have spent freely of their time and money.

"Every business and professional man in Florida should do his part in aiding in this work, as removal of the tariff protection would drive most business houses to the wall. This is not an idle dream, but a solid fact which can be easily proved. Even during the past two years when adverse weather conditions have kept the farmers from making a profit, they have expended millions of dollars in the state, most of which went to mercantile establishments and professional men.

At the conclusion of Mr. Bennett's talk, Mr. Garner called attention to the fact that the Florida Agricultural Tariff Association is a non-partisan organization, formed solely to fight for an equalizing tariff. It has no political affiliations with any other tariff group and that its efforts and supporters are divided between the two major political parties. The association does not play politics.

"It had been a special scheme of the Florida legislature would not have appropriated five thousand dollars for its use, nor would the Florida senators have voted their approval of the act. The water has been somewhat muddied in the past by individuals working possibly sincerely, along these same lines, but it is my belief, and that of others who have studied our problem, that the results desired can be accomplished only by a strong organization of this kind, headed as it is by the leading men in the industry.

Dr. W. J. Buck moved that a committee of local business men, grocers and shippers be formed to bring together the various interests of the community in a functioning organization, so that adequate funds could be raised. Dr. Buck pointed out that every business man in the Glades would be practically forced out of business if the tariff was removed on any item. "And," he said, "if the tariff is once removed we will be bankrupt before we can have it replaced."

C. W. Garner, representing the sugar, K. V. Green, representing the growers, and Joe Friedheim, representing the business interests, were chosen as a steering committee. Dr. Buck was added to this

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

FARM CHRISTMAS GIFTS
People differ a great deal in their ideas about Christmas as giving. Some make the Christmas season an occasion for selfish trading of costly gifts, while others find it a time for gracious giving to friends whom they love.

Farm people have an opportunity to make welcome gifts from their store gathered from farm and orchard.

A basket of polished fruits and vegetables is a colorful present and welcomed in any home that does not revel in their own garden. Nuts in a bright red tartan sack present a festive appearance in keeping with holiday spirits. A pound of fresh home-made butter wrapped in parchment paper and tied with a yellow bow is a golden gift indeed, while cottage cheese in a clear glass jar tempts the most jaded appetite.

Crystallized fruit or home-made fruit cake is a reminder of a thoughtful friend for days to come. A bottle of syrup or a jar of choice preserves or jelly can be a gift of real beauty in its cellulose covering tied with a sprig of mistletoe. The most useful gift of all is fresh country sausage. It is a treat to most folks and can be wrapped attractively in a piece of home-made cloth. It is a fragrant reminder to grown persons of the spicy odors of the Christmas-time kitchen of their childhood.

A beautiful wreath made from greenery from the woods and dignified with a sprig of holly and a box of Christmas greens will be welcomed by all who cannot wait for the holly leaves to gather their own yuletide decorations.

So whether the money is scarce or not in the farm households of Florida, every farm woman or girl can find some real gift from pantry or storehouse to extend her Christmas greetings to her friends.

T. V. Watson of Tallahassee, Ala., and William H. Hooker of Cleveland are preparing to plant tomatoes near Cleveland.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED BY WHIP

THREAD SUPPORTING RING CAN BE BURNED AND STILL SUPPORT RING

A piece of thread must be prepared for this trick in the following manner: A small glass is filled with water, two teaspoonfuls of salt are added and the water is stirred until the salt has dissolved. The thread is dropped into the water, left to soak for about an hour, and taken out and thoroughly dried. The performer appears before the audience, borrows a ring, and one end of the thread is to the ring, which is then just suspended in mid-air, and a match is applied to the thread. Although the thread burns, it will retain sufficient strength to hold the ring. This is explained by the salt water forming a crystallized surface on the thread, which gives it double strength.

SERVICES AT TENT
There will be services in the tent at Canal Point during next week as follows: Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and Sunday night at 7 o'clock; Monday night will be observed as Brotherhood Night when all members of brotherhoods and trade-unions are especially invited; Tuesday night will be Old People's Night; Wednesday, Business and Professional Men's Night; Thursday, Women's Night; and Friday, Bean Growers' Night.

There is plenty of parking space about the tent. The old time gospel will be preached and sung in these meetings and the public is cordially invited to attend.

More Than Million in Twenty States Fed by Red Cross Volunteers

Hot School Lunches and Drought Victims — Seed Programs Instituted on Wile's Scale

More than 1,000,000 persons in 302 drought-stricken counties of 20 States came under the care of the American Red Cross in what developed into the most extensive relief operations in half a century of philanthropic drought humanity.

Measures to lessen the severity of the blow inflicted by drought were taken as early as last September, when seed was distributed to more than 50,000 families for the planting of rice and other pastures, and to more than 7,000 families for the planting of kitchen gardens. The expenditure for this purpose amounted to $285,000. Green vegetables were made available up to January.

Early in February another Red Cross relief program got under way and 507,000 packages of seed were distributed in 20 States. Corn, beans, cabbage, carrots, sweet corn, squash, muskmelon, watermelon, spinach, squash, tomatoes and turnips. Once again were farm families given the opportunity to participate in their own salvation.

A comparatively mild winter contributed to the success of the spring and fall seed campaigns. Many habitual single-croppers were introduced to the advantages of kitchen gardens, balanced cropping and balanced diet. Numerous land-owners have expressed the opinion that this constitutes the one apparent blessing to come out of the drought catastrophe. The United States Department of Agriculture and the local county agricultural agents and some demonstration agents cooperated in making this part of the relief operations successful.

Balanced Meals Served
Red Cross feeding was aimed at adequacy and scientific correctness. In large numbers of schools, where children were found to be suffering with little or nothing in their lunch boxes, hot meals were served at noon. A typical menu consisted of vegetable soup and bread or rice; thick beef soup or stew with vegetables; another dish; cocoa or milk and cheese, peanut butter, or jam sandwiches, a third dish.

In some places where lunches were not served in the schools, but were offered for the regular food supply, each family having

Growers Invited To New Miami Exchange

A group of Dade county farmers and business men have established a farmers' exchange in Miami at 19 S. E. Fifth street on South Miami avenue and just south of the Miami avenue bridge. The parking fee is 50 cents, the same as the city offers at the curb market.

The Miami Farmers' Exchange managers invite the farmers of Pahokee, Canal Point and Belle Glade sections to make use of the wholesale lot at the location here stated. Farmers are entitled to sell their produce without license if the products are raised in the state of Florida.

If information is wanted in advance before produce is taken to the Exchange, F. J. Powers, the manager, can be addressed at the headquarters, 15 Southeast Fifth street, Miami.

school children received extra staples for school lunches including potatoes, carrots, rutabagas, peas and tomatoes. Red Cross nutritionists instructed mothers in the preparation and serving of these staples, and by Red Cross chapters. Besides the staple staples, such as corn meal, lentils, beans and peas, and potatoes, such items as canned salmon, cabbage, tomatoes, vegetables and milk were provided, each order being adapted to the special needs of the family from whom it was issued. These staples were distributed, eggs, yeast and other prelatives were given.

Thousands of Volunteer Workers
Many thousands of volunteers, through their local Red Cross chapters, gave freely of their time, experience and efforts, as in other Red Cross disaster operations. They searched out needy cases in their communities, Chapter committees investigated circumstances, distributed food and clothing.

More than 500 carloads of food stuffs were contributed. These were given free of charge by railroads. Farmers of more fortunate sections embraced the opportunity to help their fellow sufferers in the drought-stricken areas. Shipments consisted of live poultry to fish, from grain to grapes, vegetables, and other foodstuffs.

Large quantities of new and used clothing were distributed. In direct response to the success of the spring and fall seed campaigns, which had been kept at home for lack of sufficient protection from the elements. In some instances, rural schools that had been closed were enabled to reopen as a result of Red Cross efforts.

Many of these States had been hard hit by a succession of floods, crop failures, low prices and economic depression, and drought conditions a climax to the cycle of distress.

"Wherever I went," wrote one observer, "I made a point of asking what would have happened if the Red Cross had not been able to respond. In widely scattered points, from Florida citizens, came the answer that conditions where world have been made deathly dreary from starvation, with epidemic pressing upon the undernourished."

A better sugar content than last year has been found in cane. The Cleverson News reports the manager of the sugar company as saying, "If the sugar content is higher in cane grown when the lake is low, a low lake level seems to be a good thing for the sugar company."

TOMATO NAMED PRITCHARD AS MEMORIAL TO BREEDER

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—The last wilt-resistant tomato variety developed by the late Fred J. Pritchard, internationally known tomato breeder with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is to bear his name as a memorial to his work, the department announced.

Mr. Pritchard had practically completed the development of the new variety just before his death in January, 1931, and the Bureau of Plant Industry at the department had sent out numerous small lots of seed for test under the name of Scarlet Topper. The department this winter is arranging for such contacts with experienced tomato seed producers as may be expected to provide adequate stocks of seed in the near future. Requests for Scarlet Topper tomato seed are filled under the name of Pritchard. This new tomato is highly wilt-resistant, and promises to be widely adopted in the Atlantic coast to midwest regions. Two other varieties developed by Mr. Pritchard are the Marglobe and Break 'n' Day, both of which are widely grown. The Pritchard was developed at the Arlington farm of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

POTATOES ARE DEFINED
Below is what a western writer says concerning potatoes. Potatoes are a lovely tuber planted extensively in Aroostook county and the Snake River Valley, chiefly to keep the producer, broker and buyer busy.

They vary greatly in size, longevity and smoothness, and the man who can grow the nicest grade is called a boyer by the public, a poor business man by his creditors and a crook by the farmer.

The price of potatoes is determined in some mythical town in the east. It goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought.

A buyer working for a group of commission men went east to study the market report. After a few days of deliberation he wired his associates to this effect:

"Some think it will go up. Some think it will go down. I do too. At once. Whatever you do will be wrong."

Potatoes are planted in the spring, overgrown in the summer and left in the ground in winter. You can and you can't. You will be damned if you plant and you'll be damned if you don't.
